Rocky Mountain Masters and PC-Conferencing, Inc. announce that Kristina Koznick will participate at season opening GS & SL races at Loveland

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE December 3rd, 2007

DENVER, CO – Rocky Mountain Masters (RMM), a leading provider of alpine ski racing competitions for adult racers, today announced that it will be teaming with PC-Conferencing, Inc. to bring former US Ski Team and World Cup technical specialist Kristina Koznick to Loveland on December 15 & 16. As the host area to the opening weekend on RMM's 2008 schedule of events, Loveland Valley presents an ideal environment for experienced skiers to compete at an adult level and gain valuable input from one of the most successful ski racers in the United States.

Ms. Koznick will share her wealth of experience in this sport with all participants, and will help racers inspect the course and terrain to choose the ideal race line and tactics needed to successfully compete. In addition, the race runs will be video taped and reviewed by the critical eye of a former World Cup competitor. “We are delighted to have such a recognized figure as Kristina Koznick participate at Loveland”, says Jim Roberts, President of RMM. “Her incredible knowledge will be shared with our members to help overcome some of the challenges and obstacles typically associated with modern ski racing. The hill at Loveland is an ideal venue for first-time participants because it is reasonably gentle, yet firm enough to create a demanding course for even the finest competitors.”

“It made perfect sense to combine our efforts to bring Kristina to a Masters ski racing event”, says Kevin Ward, President of PC-Conferencing. “We’re always looking for ways to increase exposure and to promote fund raising for junior athletes. Kristina benefited from these types of events while she was a junior racer growing up in the Midwest, and this gives her a chance to give something back to the sport that she loves so much”.

When asked if she was interested in racing the season opening masters races at Loveland, Kristina jumped at the opportunity. “Ski racing is one of the most fun and exhilarating experiences there is and I'm very excited to race in the Masters event at Loveland. I am really looking forward to getting some new adult racers out on the course. Unlike many competitive sports these days, ski racing can be a lifelong activity with racers still competing into their 70's. The hill at Loveland is relatively short but challenging, and there could not be a better venue to kick off a season of Masters ski racing in Colorado. It will be a great opportunity for everyone, whether you have a lot of ski racing experience or not.”

To participate in these events, or to find out more about RMM, please visit www.rmmskiracing.org and click on the Race Registration tab. Members must be at least 18 years old to participate, and racers compete in age classes broken down to 5-year increments. Loveland Valley is conveniently located on I-70 on the East side of the Eisenhower tunnel, making it one of the more accessible ski areas to the Front Range.

About Rocky Mountain Masters – RMM is a 501(c)3 organization that is governed by a volunteer board of directors. RMM’s charter is to host high quality alpine ski racing experiences for its 300+ members in all four alpine events (SL, GS, SG and DH). 24 races are typically held during 10 separate weekends between mid-December and the end of March.
